Program: "Workforce Productivity – Getting More with Less: How HR can make an Impact?"

Joe Davenport, President of Workforce Designs, will be presenting information and leading discussion on what factors drive employee productivity and identify a number of best practices that explain outstanding productivity in the workforce. This program will help to determine what is being done to increase employee productivity in organizations, what role HR is playing and how HR can make an impact.

This program is pending approval for recertification credit through HR Certification Institute.
