Strategic Management Certificate

Today's workplace provides many hurdles for managers. They are tasked with increasing demands, additional responsibilities and managing change. Many of these new tasks fall outside the realm of their traditional roles or skill sets as most managers have made their careers in the comfort of their functional silos. Now managers must adapt, gain new skills and emerge as multi-skilled strategic partners to the companies in which they work. This Strategic Management certificate provides cross-functional knowledge necessary for managers to understand business as well as meet the demands of today's workplace. This certificate is geared toward executive, departmental or managers who oversee other managers. However, any manager who seeks to strengthen their strategic ability and business knowledge would benefit from these courses.

The Strategic Management certificate incorporates 7 courses listed to receive the Strategic Management certificate at a total cost of $795.00.
